

CONTENTS

Preface	vii
Introduction: Michel Foucault, biopolitics and the abolition of violence	1
PART ONE
Regulatory bioviolence	17
1 Aylan Kurdi and the index of responsibility	19
2 The construction of life: Specie-fiction, race war and immunitas	34
3 Rise of the paedophobes!: Or the coercive power of norms, regulation, population and massification in the case of migrant children	49
4 Death on the beaches: Bioviolence defined	63
PART TWO
Humanimals and bare life	77
5 #Harambe and the construction of life	79
6 Humanimals and the abolition of life	90

PART THREE
Decapitation and the digital caliphate	105
7 ISIS and the art of decapitation	107
8 Biohistory: The human, the head, the tool, the cut and the tribe	124
PART FOUR
The global camp	141
9 Days of Raqqa and the Bethnal Green girls	143
10 Shamima Begum, our femina sacra	158
11 Reading Guantanamo or camp as coercion	174
PART FIVE
2020, I can't breathe	191
12 George Floyd and #BlackLivesMatter: Thoughts	193
13 Herd immunity: COVID and coercion	204
Conclusion: Apologia for a theory of political Acéphalism	216
Bibliography	221
Index	229