

Contents

List of figures	vi
List of tables	vii
Acknowledgements	ix
Preface	x
1 Introduction: international and global nature of tourism and hospitality	1
2 Culture: a cross-cultural perspective	33
3 Intercultural competence, intercultural sensitivity, and cultural intelligence	60
4 Culture and context in communication	90
5 The influence of indulgence and restraint on tourism and hospitality	115
6 Power distance as a cultural variable	150
7 Uncertainty avoidance as a cultural variable	191
8 Masculinity versus femininity, gender egalitarianism, and assertiveness	225
9 The influence of individualism and collectivism on tourism and hospitality	255
10 Performance and humane orientation as cultural variables	286
11 Time orientation as a cultural variable	311
12 A review of Trompenaars and Hampden-Turner's cultural dimensions	334
13 Cross-cultural aspects of sustainability in tourism and hospitality	352
14 Implications of cultural characteristics of the Asia-Pacific region: East and Southeast Asia and Australia	366
15 Conclusions	375
Index	393