

Contents

List of figures	viii
List of case studies	x
1 Researching changing visitor preferences	1
Chapter summary	1
Categorization of the tourism, hospitality and event management industries	2
Connection between marketing strategy and marketing research	7
Uses of marketing research	10
Social media and changes in tourism behavior	13
2 Understanding cultural and ethical research issues	16
Chapter summary	16
Conducting research across cultures	17
Hofstede's cultural dimensions	22
Adjusting research methods based on uncertainty avoidance	23
Marketing research ethics	25
3 Starting the research process	31
Chapter summary	31
Determining the research question	32
Sources of information	34
Types of marketing research	36
Research methods available	41
4 Choosing research participants	47
Chapter summary	47
Describing research participants	48
Finding qualitative participants	50
Selecting participants for quantitative research surveys	55
Determining the sample size for surveys	58

Contents

5	Writing a visitor survey	62
	Chapter summary	62
	Survey research uses	63
	The survey questionnaire development process	67
	Writing effective questions and answers	70
	Demographic questions and response rates	76
6	Administering visitor surveys	79
	Chapter summary	79
	Changes in survey distribution methods	80
	Online survey forms	85
	Inviting and incentivizing	90
7	Moderating focus groups	94
	Chapter summary	94
	Using focus groups	95
	Focus group process	98
	Managing focus group interaction	101
	Managing conflict	107
8	Managing projective techniques and observational research	110
	Chapter summary	110
	Projective techniques	111
	Creative tasks	113
	Observational research	117
	Observational research process	121
9	Conducting visitor interviews	126
	Chapter summary	126
	Uses of interview research	127
	The interview process	130
	Preparing interview questions and logistics	135
	Interview participants	137
10	Using social media to conduct research	143
	Chapter summary	143
	Social media sites and consumer research	144
	Social media analytics as a source of data	146
	Researching consumer trends online	150

11	Analyzing research data	158
	Chapter summary	158
	Research analysis process	159
	Organizing and coding qualitative data	163
	Using statistics to analyze quantitative data	166
	Statistical measures of dispersion and hypothesis testing	168
12	Preparing the report and presentation	173
	Chapter summary	173
	Reporting the findings and recommendations	174
	Structure of the written report	176
	Writing the report	180
	Preparing the oral presentation	183
	Index	189