

Contents

1 Foundations of Systematic Innovation	1
1.1 The Story of Anchor Stones	1
1.2 Invention, Innovation, and Commercialization	3
1.2.1 Schumpeter: Innovation and Entrepreneurship	4
1.2.2 Long Waves of Innovation	6
1.2.3 Diffusion and Commercialization	9
1.2.4 Disruptive Innovation	15
1.3 Drucker's Sources for Innovation	17
1.4 Structured Innovation Management	21
References	25
2 Motivation: The Desire to Innovate	27
2.1 A Path-Goal Model for Motivation and Creative Action	28
2.2 Some Motivation and Management Theories	30
2.2.1 Maslow's Hierarchy of Needs	31
2.2.2 Herzberg's Motivation-Hygiene Theory	34
2.2.3 Vroom's Expectancy Theory	36
2.2.4 McClelland's Need for Achievement	37
2.2.5 McGregor's Management Theories X and Y	41
2.2.6 Ouchi's Management Theory Z	43
2.2.7 Fiedler's Contingency Theory	43
References	44
3 Creativity: Problem—Novel Solution—Communication	45
3.1 Strengthening Problem-Solving Capabilities and Increasing the Probability of Success	46
3.1.1 Hypothesis-Driven Problem-Solving	48
3.1.2 360° View: DeBono's Six Thinking Hats	51
3.1.3 Beyond Brainstorming: Independent Thought and Brainstorming	54
3.2 Theory of Inventive Problem-Solving	55
3.2.1 Grouping of the Innovation Principles	58
3.2.2 The TRIZ Contradiction Matrix	67
3.2.3 How Effective Is TRIZ?	68
References	70

4 Organization: Enabling Innovation	73
4.1 Company Culture	74
4.1.1 Organizational Context Enabling Innovation	75
4.1.2 The Network Model	77
4.1.3 The Changing Role of Management and Leadership	79
4.1.4 Organization Types and Their Influence on Innovation	81
4.1.5 Designing the "Best" Organization	84
4.2 Self-Organization and Start-Up Spirit	90
4.2.1 Start-Ups and Self-Organization	90
4.2.2 Holacracies and Self-Organizing Systems	92
4.2.3 Decentralized Autonomous Organizations: Modern Networks of Autonomous Stakeholders	95
4.3 Excursions: Estimating the Required Staff Numbers	96
4.3.1 Counting the Number of Managers in Hierarchical Organizations	96
4.3.2 FTE Estimation for a Purchasing Organization	97
References	99
5 Change: The Second Side of the Coin	101
5.1 Bottom-Up: Kaizen and Continuous Improvement	102
5.1.1 5 S and 3 Mu's	104
5.1.2 7 M and Improvement Questions (7 W)	105
5.1.3 Continuous Improvement	107
5.2 Top-Down: Kaikaku and Kakushin	109
5.2.1 The Three Ways of Change	110
5.2.2 Some Specific Methods of Kaikaku	111
5.2.3 Some Specific Methods of Kakushin	113
5.2.4 Next Practice: Destabilization for the Improvement Jump ...	114
5.3 Process Transformations and Digitization	115
References	127
6 Benchmarking: Measuring Against the Best	129
6.1 Benchmarking	129
6.1.1 The Benchmarking Process	132
6.1.2 The Different Types of Benchmarking	136
6.1.3 Excursion: Conducting Empirical Studies	138
6.2 Case Study: Individual Benchmarking at a Globally Operating Enterprise	139
6.2.1 Planning Phase	140
6.2.2 Conduction of Interviews	143
6.2.3 Analysis and Data Evaluation	143
6.2.4 Communication and Interpretation of the Results	146
6.2.5 Added Value Through Indicative Price Benchmarking	146
6.2.6 Key Learning	147
6.3 Challenging Benchmarking as a Method	148
6.3.1 Problems: Methodology and Conduction	149

6.3.2	Psychological Factors	151
6.3.3	Key Success Factors	153
	References	155
7	Open Innovation and Innovation in Networks	157
7.1	The Approaches of Innovative Companies	157
7.2	Open Innovation	161
7.2.1	Open Innovation	162
7.2.2	Open Source: Pros and Cons	165
7.3	Innovation Networks and Their Management	166
7.3.1	Dimensions of Innovation Networks	168
7.3.2	The Orchestra Model	169
7.3.3	The Creative Bazaar Model	170
7.3.4	The JAM Central Model	172
7.3.5	The MOD Station Model	173
	References	174
8	Consulting: The Agents of Change	175
8.1	Management Consulting	175
8.1.1	Consulting Operations	179
8.1.2	Reorganization Case: Consultants as Agents of Change	184
8.1.3	Success and Failure of Consulting Projects	186
8.2	Basic Analysis Techniques	188
8.2.1	Technology Potential Analysis/Technology Cycle Analysis	188
8.2.2	Cost Structure Analysis	190
8.2.3	Value Chain Analysis	191
8.2.4	Competitive Structure Analysis	192
8.2.5	Reengineering	193
	References	194
9	Competitive Intelligence: Actionable Business Insights	195
9.1	Competitive Intelligence	195
9.1.1	Objectives of Competitive Intelligence	198
9.1.2	Observation	200
9.1.3	Human Intelligence (HUMIT)	201
9.1.4	Electronic Media (Internet and Databases)	202
9.2	Competitive Intelligence Operations	203
9.2.1	The CI Process and Its Intelligence Products	203
9.2.2	The CI Teams and Its Skills	206
9.2.3	CI: A SWOT Analysis	210
9.2.4	Connecting CI with Benchmarking	212
	References	212
	Index	215